3) INFORMATION AND VERIFICATION OF CHAREDI PRACTICE OF THE APPLICANT'S FAMILY

The designation of Orthodox Jewish (Charedi) comprises an ethos, lifestyle and practice that demonstrates a commitment to Torah study and Mitzvos observance, and the fundamental tenets of Yiras Shomayim, Emunas Chachomim, Middos Tovos and Tzenius in dress, speech and behaviour. For further information please see the Admissions Policy

For the application to be considered under the religious practice elements of the oversubscription criteria, the applicant child's parent or carer must provide the information below regarding the family's Charedi practice. The other information requested will enable the School to verify Shul attendance and that sha'alos are directed to the named person.

Rabbi.Shul/s attended for communal prayer

Rabbi's Name: Contact no:

Which Rabbi do you ask your sha'alos to?

Rabbi's Name: Contact no:

In order to verify your Orthodox Jewish (Charedi) practice you will need to self-certify the following

I have read and understood the designation of Orthodox Jewish (Charedi) as described in the Introduction to the Pardes House Primary School admissions policy.

I/We and my/our immediate family observe Orthodox Jewish (Charedi) practice as described in the Introduction to the Pardes House Primary School admissions policy (see note below)

The child for whom this application is made does not have access to internet enabled devices or to television

Note: For the avoidance of doubt, compliance with the criterion 'The avoidance of dress which emphasises or unduly exposes the body' insofar as it applies to married women means the following:

1. Dress ensures that the wearer's knees are covered when seated
2. Absence of slits in skirts and dresses
3. Sleeves extend over the elbow
4. Hair is fully covered
5. Legs are fully covered by tights or above knee socks. Leggings should not be worn.
6. Tight-fitting materials are not worn in overgarments
7. Neckline does not extend below the top of the sternum

They are elaborated at length in the secondary reference listed in the admissions policy 'Modesty – An Adornment for Life by Rabbi E Falk (Feldheim) Chapters 5 & 6'

Signature of Parent/Carer.....Date

Please return this completed form together with a copy of your son's birth certificate. This is required to verify the appropriate year group for entry.
